

FRIENDS DON'T LET FRIENDS BUY HAIRCARE ONLINE™

Retrohair is a hairdresser product company, we manufacture salon products for hairdressers by hairdressers.

We do not sell our products online and do not authorize ANYONE to sell Retrohair or Holistix products online.

With that said, we cannot stand behind or warrant any products that are purchased anywhere other than from a licensed hair salon.

There are a multitude of reasons why we take this stance, most are to protect you, our customers. We have hosted calls from upset customers who purchased expired or counterfeit products online. We have also hosted calls from customers that purchased the wrong products for their hair type. Due to the fact that expired products and more importantly, counterfeit products can cause adverse affects on the person using them, we highly recommend not buying unauthorized products online.

We do know the convenience online selling has brought into our lives, but we must also acknowledge the fact that you cannot get your hair cut, colored or have any other salon services performed online. With that thought we choose to remain a salon-only product company offering the best products and support for hairdressers. Your salon knows your hair and knows which products should be used on your hair. Online sellers do not know your hair and cannot make the proper recommendations for you.

Your hairdresser cares about your hair, please support your hairdresser!
